YALE PLAYERS IN FINE CONDITION

Head Coach Coy, Tom Shevlin and Foster Sanford in Charge of the Team—Secret Practice for Rest of Week.

New Haven, Nov. 14.—The Yale varsity football team had a fine practice on the field this afternoon. The men who played in the Princeton game, not going into the scrimmage, Captain Daly, Kilpatrick, Steyer and Foster, who spent Sunday on the Hudson, returned today and the others who are out of the city will come back tonight.

Head Coach Coy, assisted by Tom Shevlin and Foster Sanford, will have charge of the team during the week and all practice will be behind closed gates. The men are in excellent shape physically.

YALE COYS TO DEFEAT HARVARD SATURDAY.
A Kicking Contest May Be Expected to Characterize the Game.

New York, Nov. 14.—A field goal, whether it is the old kick or from placement, is football's most important play. Though a hold over the last game but three points, it is much easier to get than a touchdown, under the new rules. Punting also cuts the margin of safety. The Yale team is expected to win this game, and the young man with an educated toe is a whole lot in demand. Line plungers are so uncertain and runs are attempted with such risk of losing the ball that punting is the safe way of keeping the ball out of danger. A team that can gain on an exchange of punts can soon out the pigskin in position where the defense is at a disadvantage. A good kicker is a valuable asset. A team that can kick is a team that can win. A team that can punt is a team that can win. A team that can punt is a team that can win.

Princeton has two corksing drop kickers in Pendleton and Hallon. The latter is a great punter, and he was at his best in the game at the Polo grounds against Dartmouth when he outscored Ingels, the Green Mountain hoister, in a rattling duel. Harvard has not displayed much of this true strength in the kicking department, but against Yale they will probably be forced to. Let it be known that the Crimson team has a trio of kickers who can be counted upon to do this duty when called upon to perform. They are Corbett, Wigglesworth and Pendleton. Corbett is a dandy drop kicker, but his specialty runs to long punts. On account of Harvard's end and on the Harvard team they did not resort to drop kicking at all in the early game.

Of course, a field goal only counts three points (in the old days it counted five points), while a touchdown and goal counts six points, yet it is easier to secure two field goals than one touchdown under the new rules.

HARVARD'S STRENGTH IN BACKFIELD
Frothingham and Corbett a Nifty Pair of Halfbacks.

Harvard's strength lies almost entirely in her backfield men. Her forwards are good, but nothing exceptional. Corbett and Frothingham the Crimson has as nifty a pair of halfbacks as any that ever decorated a Crimson gridiron. Corbett does not appear to start fast, but he has a momentum as he hits the line or encounters tackles. Not even the wily Pendleton can get the advantage of anything on him unless it is in a broken field, when the little tiger is in a class by himself. But Pendleton does not pick openings any more certainly. Frothingham is nearly Corbett's equal, too.

In Lewis and L. D. Smith, the Crimson has two more players who are in the line of the game.

REVIVED MOVEMENT.
Scanty Offerings of Stock at Any Level of Prices.

New York, Nov. 14.—The stock market, having been into a pessimistic groove again today. An organized party in the speculation took up the movement for a rise in the market, where it left off on the eve of the election. Apparently the conviction that profit-taking sales prompted by the election were caused up by the operations offered the principal basis for the revived movement. The scanty offerings of stocks at any level of prices today went to justify this assumption and gave facility to the attempt to lift the market. The election was held up by the fact that an overwhelming proportion of the total dealings, Union Pacific moved into second place at the expense of Reading, and in the first hour's business actually outnumbered United States Steel in the number of shares which changed hands. In the later stages the trading became languid, but most of the gains were held. The prominence of Union Pacific in the dealings was accomplished by the circulation of rumors that it was to be admitted to the Paris bourse.

A sustaining influence for stocks was the good showing made by the banks in the weekly return on Saturday. The substantial cash gain and, especially, the reduction in the excess of loans over deposits made an impression of growing health in the banking position. The call loan market was easier, in consequence. Buying for London account played a considerable part in the strength of the day's stock market. Some shifting of speculative holdings of stocks from the New York to the London market might have played a part in these dealings.

The return to work of the striking express drivers in New York relieved stocks from one factor of depression. Bonds irregular. Total sales, net value, $1,629,000. United States registered advanced 1-2 per cent. on call.
